

MY JACK WAS A POPULAR SUCCESS

Walter Sanford's players added to the favorable impression already made by them, by presenting the nautical drama, "My Jack" last evening. A swing and dash about the performance carried the interest of the audience from start to finish. The staging was very handsome, showing the deck of a British ironclad, and the sun-scorched African desert. William Desmond played "Jack," and looked the handsome lover. In spite of complications, he proves his right to the fortune another has wrongfully deprived him of, and triumphs over his enemies. Miss Laura Wall played his sweetheart sweetly. Ethelle Earle gave a forceful performance of the blind mother, her scene with her son in the first act, being especially strong. Griffith Wray as "Ciro Panitza," presented a strong characterization, and A. C. Henderson was excellent as Sir Edward Vanburg. The other members were praiseworthy. "My Jack" will be repeated tonight. Walter Johnson made a hit with some negro specialties and songs.

CHILLINGWORTH BARRED OUT

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth finds himself barred out of his own office at the police station. The place was invaded yesterday by carpenters and a handsome railing and counter has been installed which cuts the office in half. Clerk Harry Mossman retains his old section of the office at the Ewa end, while Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth's desk reposes in the section nearest the door. However, as the change was made according to the direction of High Sheriff Brown and himself, the arrangement is satisfactory all around.

Heretofore there was little or no privacy in the Deputy Sheriff's office. His own desk, the clerk's desk and the cabinet containing the police archives were exposed to the inspection of anybody who entered the office. Court papers, secret files, memorandums and other documents were practically at the mercy of everybody's eyes.

In future no one but the elect may go behind the rail. A sign labelled "Enter at Your Peril," with crossed police clubs beneath will be posted up over the counter gate.

George H. Paris has returned from a business stay of some time on Kauai.

General Arthur Cigar

It is true that the Havana is choicer Havana than is being put into any other cigar today. It is true that in workmanship, flavor, and thorough reliability the General Arthur cigar is wonderfully good. These things are made possible by the magnitude of the manufacturer's operations—with a small concern it would be absolutely impossible. The capital and resources of the largest cigar manufacturing business in America can reasonably be expected to produce results which far surpass the efforts of an ordinary enterprise.
